The Najin Bureau of Statistics

1. The Najin (N 42-15, E 130-19) (FB-0978) Bureau of Statistics is in a wooden house at FB-078777. The Bureau of Statistics is subordinate to the Provincial Statistics Division which is supervised by the Statistics Department under the direct control of the North Korean Cabinet. The function of the Najin Statistics Bureau is to prepare monthly reports on all of the public, private, and social organizations in the area, with the exception of political parties. The Najin Bureau employs one chief and three directors of statistics.

The Najin Military Mobilization Bureau

2. The Najin Military Mobilization Bureau is in a concrete house at FB-078777. Five North Korean army officers are assigned to this bureau which is responsible for filling the mobilization quotas set by the Provincial Mobilization Center. A preliminary investigation is first made of employees of various organizations in the area, and of the civilian registry in the People's Committee, in order to record all men between the ages of 18 and 35. The bureau records the names, ages, occupations, education, party affiliations, and family status of all eligible men. The chief of the government organization concerned is consulted on the essential rating of the men in his organization. After the list is drawn up, the inductees are ordered to report to the Military Mobilization Bureau for physical examinations. Names of the men passing the examination are forwarded to the local Korean Labor Party Headquarters for final approval. Men finally inducted into the army are housed at a local inn until such time as they are assigned to a unit.

The Najin Police Station (Naemuso)

3. The Najin Police Station (Naemuso) occupies three buildings at FB-082767. The first of these, at the foot of a mountain, contains the offices of the chief of police, two assistants, and other staff members. The second building, partially underground, contains the social security office, the observation office, the security office, the accounting section, and duty officer's office. The training office and citizenship card section are in the third building. There are several confinement cells in an air raid shelter south of the first building. Major IM Yong-un (2651/ ? / ? ), [redacted] is chief of the Najin Police Station. The Observation Section, headed by a captain, is responsible for checking on political criminals. The Security Section, also headed by a captain, is in charge of vehicle and ship traffic, and the guidance of civilians during United Nations air attacks. The Citizenship Card Section issues citizenship cards and directs hotel reservations. The chief of staff handles the personal affairs of all members in the station. All staff members at the station are armed with pistols; the ordinary policemen have PPSH's.
